

ALFORD SPRING WILDLIFE CONSERVATION EASEMENT
(Alford)

- Size: 640 acres. An old logging road leads up over a ridge offering sneak views of Alford valley and Tom Ball Mountain to the east.
- Access: No formal parking areas. The only access is from the south. Take Mountain Road from Green River Road to a sharp corner where Old Village Road branches off to the right. An old wood road angles to the left and leads to a large log landing just before the state line.
- Vegetation: Approx. 90% deciduous mature forest. Oaks dominate the mix. American chestnut still sprouts here often bearing fertile “burs”.
- Water: A small stream flows eastward across the area.
- Wildlife: Deer, turkeys and gray squirrels are common wildlife species here.
- Special
Regulations:
